

The National Whig
MONDAY EVENING, MAY 10, 1847.
FOR PRESIDENT, IN 1848,
MAJOR GENERAL
ZACHARY TAYLOR,
OF LOUISIANA,
THE HERO
OF
PALO ALTO, RESACA DE LA PALMA, MONTEREY,
And Buena Vista.
Subject to the decision of the Whig National Convention.

Mr. Gilchrist, our Agent, requests us to crave the indulgence of the subscribers to the National Whig, for the very late hour at which the paper was served on Saturday evening.
His carrier on the main route, a person by the name of Potter, failed to attend to his duty, though he had been paid that very day, a week's services in advance. Mr. Gilchrist desires to inform his subscribers and the public in general, that he has taken steps to avoid a repetition of these disappointments. He is determined that the patrons of the Whig shall be punctually served.

NO GOVERNMENT IN MEXICO.
If the enemy advance one step more, the national independence will be buried in the abyss of the past.
Santa Ana's Proclamation, Mar. 31, 1847.
We have taken that step.

Gen. Scott's Despatch, April 19, 1847.
Here is food for reflection. Santa Ana, upon hearing of the fall of Vera Cruz, issues a proclamation to the Mexican people, calling upon them, by every consideration calculated to excite in their breasts hatred against the invader, to rally around their country's cause and conquer or die. A more passionate appeal could not have been made. It is absolutely eloquent with despair. In that proclamation he tells the world, that if the enemy advance one step more—one step beyond the capture of Vera Cruz and its impregnable castle, the national independence of Mexico will be buried in the abyss of the past! A few short days intervene. Santa Ana assembles the armies of the mis-called Republic upon heights inaccessible, fortifies them and awaits the approach of the enemy. The American General in obedience to the orders of his Government, turns his face to the capital of the Aztec Empire and heads not the enemy "posted on a thousand hills." The 17th and 18th days of April pass by, and General Scott writes to his government—"We have taken that step."

Now if we translate into sober English the proclamation of Santa Ana, we shall find it to mean nothing more than a last appeal to the Mexicans—a last appeal to make one more united resistance of force to force. If unsuccessful, he distinctly avows that the national independence is gone—that is, that the organized body called the government of Mexico is dissolved. This, we take it, and we believe every considerate man will take it, to be the sum and substance of this proclamation which General Scott deems of sufficient importance to transmit to his government.

If this view of the subject be correct, the battle of Cerro Gordo has put an end to the government of Mexico—after the 18th of April there was no longer any General Government over that miserable country. All future resistance to our arms, upon this hypothesis, will be the resistance of an armed mob. And already we have accounts of such resistance after the battle in the murders between Cerro Gordo and Vera Cruz. "All the country is in arms against us"—says a correspondent of the government paper—not in the form of regular warfare, but of irregular, guerrilla warfare.

Such a state of things will be exceedingly embarrassing to the further progress of our arms, nay, will change the whole face of the war. The towns which we shall approach will surrender with seeming good grace, while the hidden and fatal knife will do its work. Mexico will be reached in due time. We enter it.
We occupy it. What then? Where is peace?— Where is the Mexican government? No man of the enemy answers! No government exists. It has been buried in the abyss of the past! We shall then understand that Santa Ana did not speak idle words. And unless we are egregiously mistaken, unless all the elements of human judgment in judging of these Mexicans be false, we believe that such will be the fact, that Gen. Scott will find no government to treat with, that his conquest of the Aztec will be a barren sceptre.

The next question is, if these suppositions prove to be true, can he hold his conquest until reinforced, or until our Congress shall meet? We fear not. He was much harassed, even as far as Cerro Gordo, for the want of transportation and other things. Was the expedition provided with the means of holding the capital of Mexico, when taken, for any length of time. These are questions undeterminable by the journalist, but we feel confident that no calculations have been made to meet this state of which we have here endeavored to point out as probable in the further prosecution of this unfortunate war.— A few days will, however, show us whether we have taken a right view of the subject.

But of one thing we are almost sure, and that is, that the United States will never obtain any peace from Mexico, but such peace as they shall make for themselves by actual and sufficient occupation of the country, unless, indeed, such a change shall come over the next Congress as to compel the President to withdraw our forces to the left bank of the Rio Grande.
In that event a reorganization of the government of Mexico is possible, and a peace may follow.

P. S. Since the above remarks were written, we received the last news from the city of Mexico, up to the 9th of April, which, in some measure goes to confirm our views. On the 31st of March, Congress abolished the office of Vice President and established a Provisional President so as to enable Santa Ana to take the field in person. Santa Ana was elected Provisional President, and entered on his duties on the 3d of April. The newspaper press breathes nothing but war and vengeance, revenge or death. The whole peace of the Republic is now in the hands of Santa Ana. He is virtual Dictator, and we believe he declared the government at an end, the moment he reached the Capitol in his flight from Cerro Gordo.

The Picayune Extra of the 3d inst., brings intelligence of the capture of Tuspan by our fleet after a sharp resistance. Our forces had four officers and four men wounded. Among the former was Capt. Tannal. The heavy artillery was spiked, and after destroying such of the public property as could not be taken away, the town was abandoned.

General Taylor had just issued orders to the commandants of posts to levy contributions on the enemy to pay for the property destroyed by Ureca.
The portion demanded of Matamoros was $45,000 payable in cash or mules and provisions.

SCOTT'S DESPATCH.
Giving an account of the results of the battle of Cerro Gordo does not throw much new light upon that action. He says that his orders were "finely executed." The number of the enemy that laid down their arms was 3000. It appears our army got behind the enemy and captured his strongest point, which led to the issue recorded. The loss in actual battle on our side in killed and wounded is 250, and that of the Mexicans 350. It was in the pursuit that the enemy suffered terribly in slain and wounded. The capture of the tower on Cerro Gordo was effected by Gen. Twiggs in a style of execution which General Scott says he had the pleasure to witness, and which was most brilliant and decisive.
Santa Ana, it seems, did not run before the battle was half over, but just before Cerro Gordo was carried. He escaped with Almonte and 6000 troops.
None of the Vera Cruz prisoners is believed to have been in the action. All the small arms captured have been preserved. General Scott apprehended no further resistance east of Perote. He complains of being embarrassed with the results of the victory! It seems that Ex-President Herrera was taken prisoner, but he and many others were released. The newspaper accounts represent the Army as dissatisfied with the parole of the prisoners!!

A wag said yesterday, that although Santa Ana had not sacrificed his life in the battle of Cerro Gordo, he had at least gone so far as to lay down his leg.

The editor of the Doylestown Democrat, says Prentice, says that we are a "Tartar."
He would think so if he were to catch us.

Our neighbor of the Democrat says Prentice, is in the habit of calling his opponents Pegs.—He evidently thinks himself a giant.
Well, we admit that all, who look at him, involuntarily exclaim—"Go fish!"

The Louisville Journal advises the Tories to make haste and devise some means to keep their party together, for he assures them that there is every prospect of a tremendous stampede among the Democracy!

The Frankfort Commonwealth says that Mr. Benton, repeatedly declared while in Kentucky, during the month just past, that no "power on earth could prevent the election of Gen. Taylor to the Chief Magistracy of the Union." If this be so, it is a sure proof that the Colonel is coming to his senses again.

The Carrollton Gazette, Greene County, has old Zach's flag flying up at its mast head.
Poor Mr. Ritchie!

BUST OF OLD ZACH.—The people of New Orleans are discussing the subject of getting up a bust to have a bust taken of old Zach. The next thing we shall hear,—it is done.

The New York Tory Globe, charges those Democrats who have not voted with his party in the recent elections with treachery, because the President could not give them all office.
Democrats—do you hear this imputation upon your integrity by the subsidized Tory Press of the President?

Lord Sidmouth, when age had given him wisdom, remarked, "I used to consider all the sufferings of war lost in its glory; I now consider all its glory lost in its sufferings."

Happy would it have been for the country, if Mr. Polk had learned this lesson before he came to the Presidency!

EMIGRATION.—A gigantic scheme of emigration from Ireland to Canada, has been submitted by Messrs. M. J. O'Connell, M. P., W. H.
Gregory, M. P., and J. R. Godley, as a Committee, to the British Government for its sanction and assistance. It is proposed to devote a certain quantity of land for each emigrant, to furnish him with £5 cash, to induce the clergy to accompany a stated number of families, &c., &c. It is also proposed to carry on the emigration with such activity, as to throw some two millions into Canada, within the next three or four years.
We sincerely hope that the measure will be adopted by the English Government, for the present famine in Ireland is not likely to end before there be a thinning of at least one-fifth of her population.

COL. FREMONT.—It is said that the illumination at Col. Benton's was very brilliant, but that it was chiefly in honor of the gallant Col.
Fremont—it being now the order of the day that honors are no longer to be given to one man but to be divided among all!

The sincere but betrayed followers of the party in power recently compelled the proprietor of the Democratic Head Quarters in Reading Pa., to pull down the flag of Polk, Dallas, and Shunk, which, in an unguarded moment he ran up to the head of the Democratic pole!

12. General Taylor.—As modest as he is brave, as prudent as he is fortunate.

The above toast was drunk at the recent Conner Dinner in Philadelphia amid the most unbounded applause which lasted for more than fifteen minutes —breaking out with fresh ardor every few moments.
Old Zach grapples with the hearts of all people except Tory office-holders.

It is said that General Scott lately made a requisition upon the Government for thirty thousand mules. The Administration could not readily furnish him with that number, and so offered him Col.
Benton who has as much of the mule in him as thirty thousand ordinary animals of that same species!
—Prentice.

But upon the refusal of Scott to accept the Colonel, it is said, the President offered him 30,000 asses from the Augean stables, with John Slidell and Atocha at their head.

It must always be remembered that on every occasion, and under all circumstances SANTA ANA'S leading principle is, an intense selfishness. He is for peace or war just as either may ensure to his own benefit.—New Orleans Bee.

And be it also remembered, that this is true in every particular of Mr. James Knox Polk!

Nothing could exceed the determination with which the Mexicans marched against General Taylor.—Washington Union.

Except the determination with which they marched back again.—Prentice.

It may be said, we are the great untaxed among nations.—Daniel Webster

We shall not be so much longer if Mr.
Polk's design of annexing the whole of Mexico to the confederacy be persisted in.

Richard H. Baptist, of Mechenburg, is announced as the candidate of the Tories in Droogmoole's District for the next Congress—to be left behind by the gallant Bolling!

FRIGHTFUL JOKE.—Some of Mr. Webster's friends say he will not impeach the President this year, because frost destroyed the blossoms of the peaches.—Boston Post.

STILL MORE FRIGHTFUL.—The veracity of the Boston Post, is said to be unimpeachable, for the same cause, when it says that Gen.
Taylor advised Mr. Polk to occupy the left bank of the Rio Grande!

The whole country (Vera Cruz,) is in arms against us, and all strangers are killed without mercy. A black man near Santa Fe is known to have murdered nine of our men, principally volunteers.—Tory Union.

And yet Mr. Polk is waging, as he says, this war to conquer "a peace"!!!!

THAT LETTER.—Why does not Mr. Polk order the publication of that letter which Gen.
Taylor wrote to the Department of War, within 24 hours of the battle of Buena Vista?
There is a great desire among the people to read it.

The Tuscaloosa Ala. Flag of the Union (Tory) glories in the very idea of having such a man as Taylor for President of the United States. What will the old man of the Washington Union say to this.

The expense of executing the Sub-Treasury law and of conducting the finances of the government on this system is estimated at not less than one million of dollars per annum!

HORRORS OF WAR.—That very able journal, the Richmond Republican, has the following just and touching reflections upon the horrors of war as exhibited in the bombardment of Vera Cruz. They will come home to every heart, particularly when it is remembered that we are fighting, not to defend our own firesides, but to conquer an enemy, whose firesides are as dear to him as ours are to us.

But when as at Vera Cruz, the chief and almost the only victims are non-combatants, helpless women and innocent children, butchered in the sanctuary of their homes, blown to atoms at the very altar of religion, we look upon the scene as desolate of a single redeeming feature, and much sifter for the theatre of Hell than earth. To realize such a hideous spectacle we should endeavor to bring it home, and suppose our own city to be surrounded by a hostile army; our own wives and children cooped up within our walls; the bomb shells raining day and night upon their heads, while even our Churches, no longer affording refuge to the weak and defenceless, become slaughter houses, filled with bleeding women and babes, offered up at the red shrine of the Demon of War.

The Tory Union now tells the country that no one could have performed less than Santa Ana in proportion to his swelling promises. We do not know that. Tell us what he promised Mr. Polk before that pass was sent to him?

Nothing could exceed the brilliancy of the New York Illumination. The papers are full of accounts, but by far the best we have seen of it, is that in the Herald which gives illustrations of the appearance of the Herald establishment and the City Hall.

We perceive by the English newspapers that Mr. Rawlings who has gone out to form a company of capitalists to promote emigration to West Virginia, has succeeded in his undertaking. He has sold nearly all the lands which were brought into market.

OUT OF PLACE. The Cork Committee which received the Jamestown's cargo of bread for the starving Irish had the wickedness to offer the captain a dinner and he the wickedness to accept it. We say wickedness—for it was worse than wicked for people to be eating and drinking at feasts tables to gratify their vanity when so many thousands were dying with in ten miles of Cork, nay, in Cork itself of starvation and disease!

For the Army. A vessel is now being loaded at the arsenal wharf with gun and ammunition carriages, which are to be despatched to Vera Cruz.

D. C. A. Van Zandt's Health Restorative Pills is a medicine which not only cures but prevents disease, capable of great results, and equally calculated to be safely used for apparently small ones. We all know how dreadful and dangerous a seated bilious disorder is, and we are also well aware of the seeming insignificance of its first warnings or incipency. The individual suffering from slight pain in his chest, back, or stomach, or from occasional nausea, dull headache, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, trifling privation of appetite, and other disagreeable visitations so commonly and foolishly looked upon as unimportant, may not know that these symptoms, treated so contemptuously, are the consequences of a diseased state of the liver, which if not remedied, will lead either to speedy death or a long train of unbearable ills which are known by the following names: Hypochondria, mania, dizziness, slow fevers, epilepsy, asthma, dropsy, rheumatism, chlorosis, convulsions, nausea, nervousness, cramps, gout, pleurisy, jaundice, irritability, and violence, dyspepsia, hysteria, scurvy, foul stomach, dry coughs, glandular affections, colds, in-gering sore throats, various disorganizations of the great intestine, strictures and spasmodic complaints internally, eruptions, shortness of breath, heartburn, neuralgia, vital inflammation, flatulence, gastric fevers, &c.

Sometimes, too, there ensues an irregular action of the heart. Take these pills and suffer no more.
